

New Schedule View to Allow switching the Header Row in the Weekly View from Date to Provider

There is now an option in Schedule V2, that will allow you to switch the header row of the schedule on the weekly view, with two options:

- A. Dates Above Resources
 - a. This allows you to see the date as the top-line header, so that your resources are grouped by date.
- B. Resources Above Dates
 - a. This allows you to see the resource as the top-line header, so that your dates are grouped together by the resource.

This option is present under the “gear” icon as seen in the screenshot above. Changing the option only affects your user, and you can switch back and forth between them! In the screenshot below, you can see that the user has switch to “Resources Above Dates” which now shows that the resource, Barry Allen, is the first entry on the list and all 5 days of the week are present.
